

THE EXERCISE OF LEADERSHIP

MOTHER
ASSUNTA MARCHETTI

"A New Hope Smiles on Us"

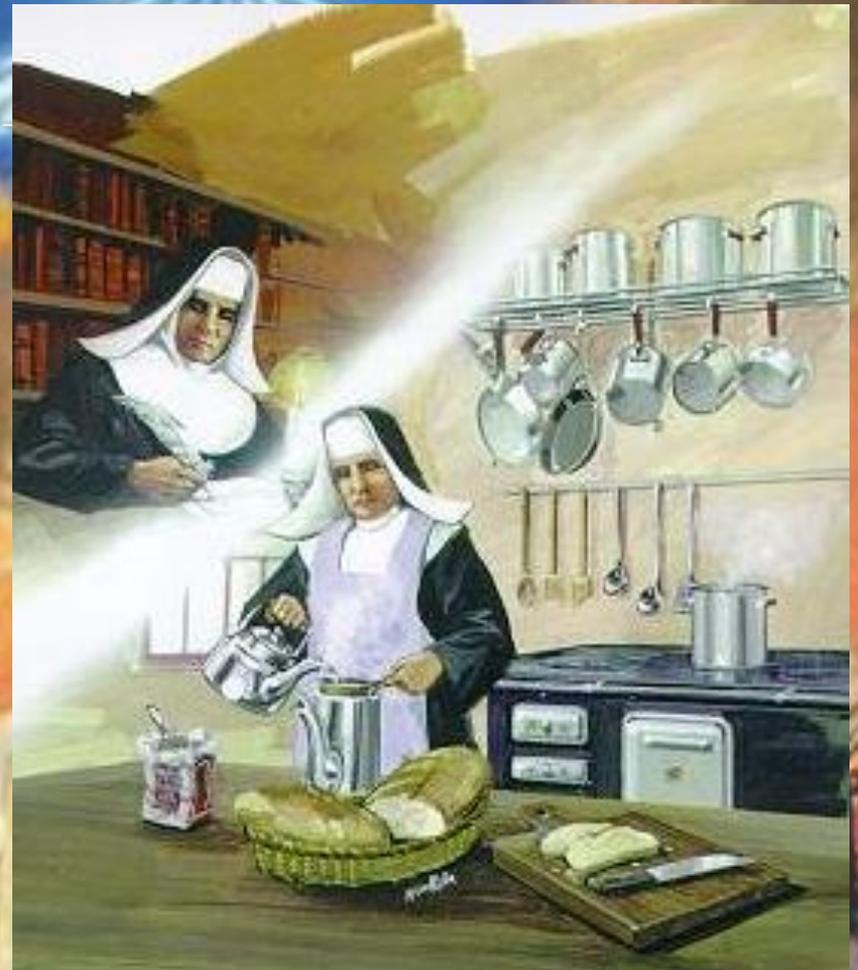

The Leadership Style of Mother Assunta

Charity

- Humility / Integrity Accountability
- Security / Vulnerability

- Mother Assunta was everyone's servant.
- She spent her life doing good to everyone. And, she sought to preserve peace, tranquility and moderation at every occasion,
- “Now we must close our ranks together in the sweet bond of charity, and, forgetting the past, set out again or rather begin again a new life.”

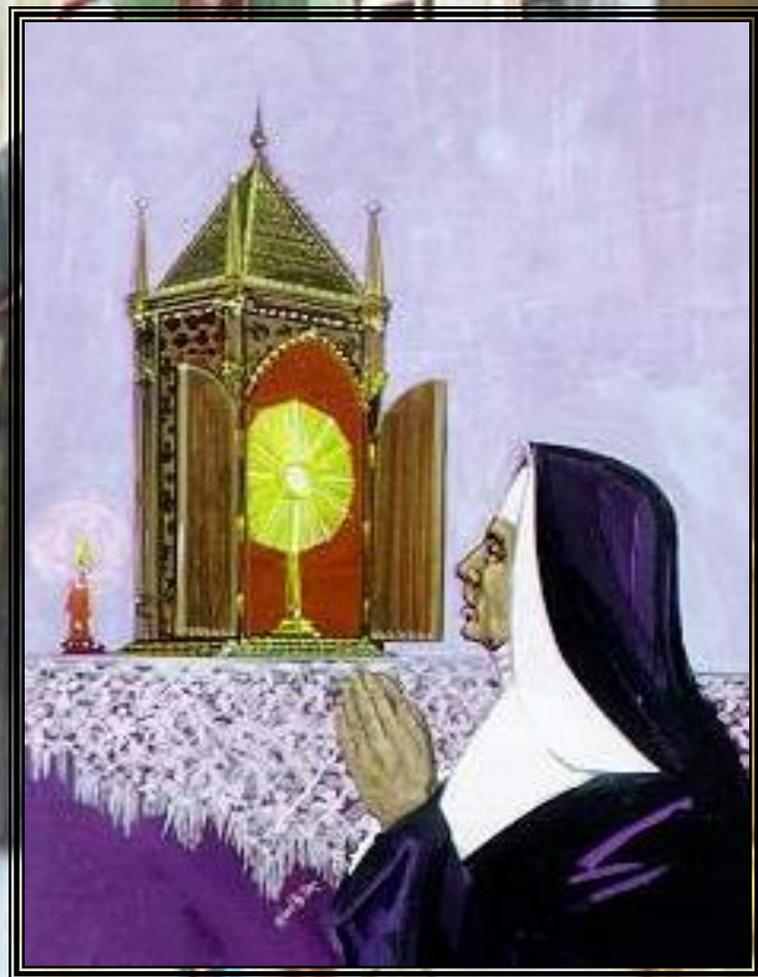

Authenticity:

Acceptance/ Availability/ Equality/ Collaboration

- profound communion particularly in her religious family
- “A sincere and cordial union is necessary, if we want everything to go well.”
- She avoided disputes, was gentle and good in her dealing with others.

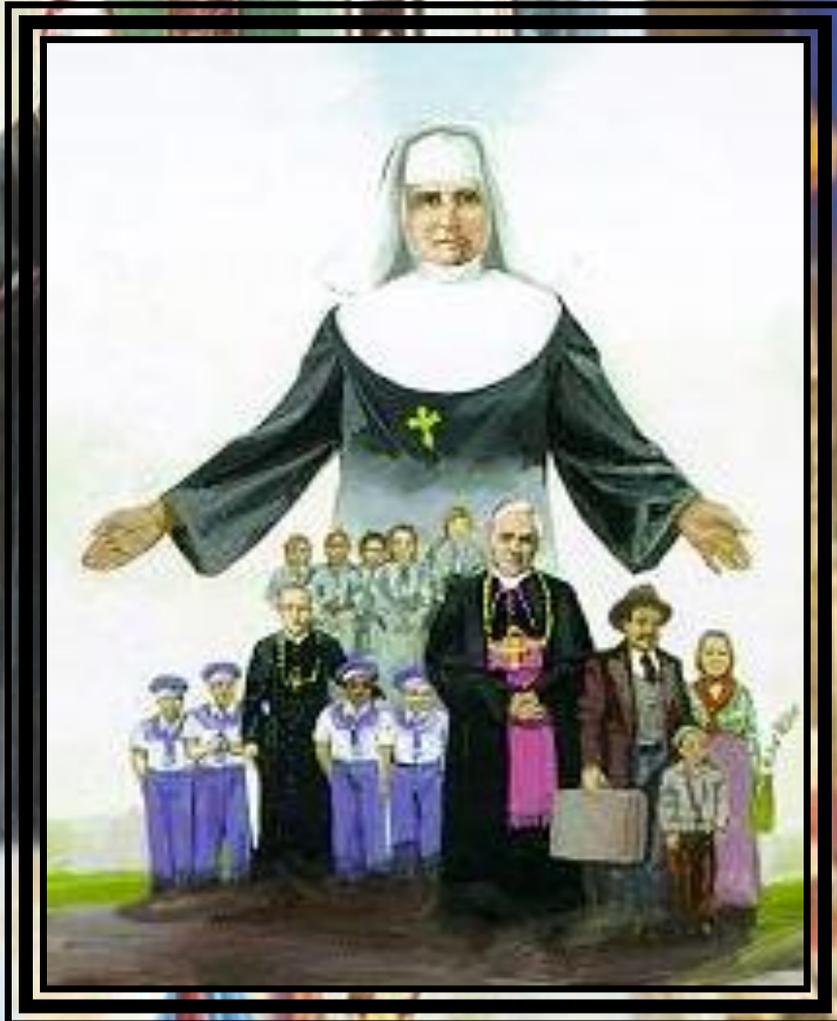

Intimacy: Moral Action

- She lived profoundly united to the Lord and this union poured into love, which gave her the energy to dedicate herself totally to the brothers and sisters, without any discrimination, treating them with kindness, tenderness and goodness unreservedly.
- She participated of their joys and sufferings, and worried about their spiritual wellbeing.
- “Without sacrifice we cannot do any good to our fellow Christians, and we do even less if we do not practice charity among ourselves.”

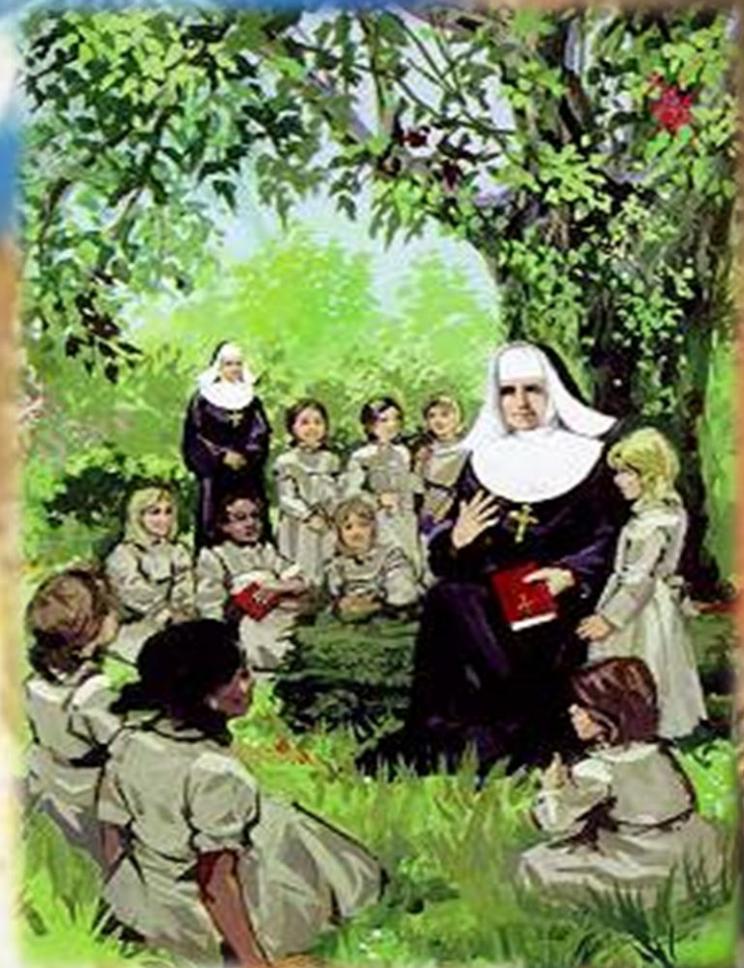

Spirituality: Sense of mission/ Wholeness

- The obedient attitude was constant in relation to the constituted authorities, leading us to believe that obedience was one of the principal dimensions of her profound and convinced spirituality.
- She drew strength to carry out this fruitful apostolate in constant prayer, in the intimacy with the Lord and meditation of the Word of God

Morality: Being Servant and Steward

- Humble Servant
- ‘to govern is to serve.’ She occupied the first place while remaining the last among her sisters and being the servant of all.
- Her example of service was extraordinary, because she always served by doing all kinds of work and with total dedication.

Transformation: Vision/Empowerment

- lived totally abandoned to God and possessed by Him, to the point of always recognizing Him in the mediation that asked her obedience.
- trusted in Divine Providence
- “As I accept, a great hope smiles upon me.” She counted with the loyal prompt and generous cooperation of all the Sisters
